ANNUAL REPORT 2011

JAMES E. CARMODY
CHIEF OF POLICE

Introduction

Chief James E. Carmody

To Our Wyoming Residents:

The City of Wyoming's exceptional quality of life is based on one a simple premise; When people work together, great things can be accomplished. That same basic premise also extends to public safety service. Effective crime prevention efforts and quality law enforcement service require more than just a great police department. It requires a strong partnership between the police and the citizens, supported by a community that cares. That partnership made Wyoming a safer place to live in 2011. As your Police Chief, I am honored to work with a department of highly trained and dedicated officers and continue to be inspired by our supportive and engaged residents.

We continued our commitment to community policing by building new partnerships with neighborhood watch groups and strengthening our older more established neighborhood groups. Our newly appointed Community Services Officers (CSO's) have worked extremely hard to reach out to the business community, our schools and our city residents in an effort to engage them in the prevention of crime rather than to react to crime. These well trained officers have already provided numerous home and business security evaluations, and have worked hand-in-hand with the City of Wyoming's Inspection Department to eliminate environmental conditions that aid in the reduction of quality of life issues within some of our older neighborhoods.

However, these proactive steps in preventing crime would not be as successful without the hard work and dedication of all of the Wyoming Police Department (WYPD) employees, and they have all been busy this past year. WYPD officers responded to, or self-initiated, a total of 48,000 calls for service in 2011. More than a third of those calls involved some level of traffic engagement. Although we tend to fear being victims of crime, more than we fear being victims of a traffic related crash, the real danger lies in our daily road travels.

According to a recent report published by the Michigan State Police, index crimes in 2009 resulted in $1.9 billion in monetary costs, while traffic crashes resulted in $4.8 billion in monetary costs to Michigan residents. When further expanded to include monetary and non-monetary quality-of-life costs, index crime costs totaled $4.7 billion, while traffic crashes resulted in $9.1 billion in total costs. The report, which was funded by the Michigan Office of Highway Safety Planning (OHSP), goes on to say that both traffic crashes and crime impose significant economic and social burdens on individuals and society through injury and loss of life, as well as property damage and loss.

Introduction

Efforts to reduce crashes and crime often result in competing demands for scarce public resources. Comparable and up-to-date cost data on crashes and crime contribute to informed decision making about allocation of these resources in important ways. One of those ways is to look at the relationships between crime and traffic crashes, to find a common connection. That is what the WYPD has been working on over the past several months, and to begin to address that relationship between crashes and crime through the implementation of the DDACTS strategy. Knowing that there is a nexus between both, allows the WYPD to better focus our limited resources to the areas of greatest need. We will continue to roll this strategy out in 2012, but early results have been more than encouraging.

In addition to our many accomplishments that you will read about in this report, many members of our staff were recognized for their contributions to our primary mission – keeping our community safe. I am very proud of their dedication and continued efforts to excel at what we do best – provide our community with outstanding law enforcement services. I am confident that their accomplishments will meet with your approval and support.

And finally, I continue to be impressed with the compassion and kindness regularly demonstrated by the citizens of this City. As I move about Wyoming and attend various functions and public events, I have found a spirit of community support that I was heretofore, unaccustomed to. From our citizen police volunteers to those of you who make up the various neighborhood groups, business associations, school administrations, church groups and our political leaders, you have all stepped forward repeatedly, to make the City of Wyoming a much better place to live and raise a family, and for that I thank all of you.

Sincerely,

James E. Carmody, Your Chief of Police

OUR COMMUNITY

Wyoming at a Glance

History

The first permanent white settlers arrived in the area in 1832, making it one of the first-settled areas of the county, and indeed the whole Western Michigan region. Initially, the area was part of Byron Township, Michigan. Wyoming Township was organized out of Byron Township in 1848. In 1933 Grandville, Michigan was incorporated from a part of Wyoming Township. Prior to this the furthest north-west square mile of the township had been annexed by Grand Rapids. In 1947 and 1948 Grandville annexed more sections of Wyoming Township. In the 1950s other portions of the township were annexed by Grandville and also Walker, Michigan.

The entire remaining township incorporated as the City of Wyoming in 1959 to protect against further annexation of land by the cities of Grand Rapids and Grandville. Wyoming is named for Wyoming County, New York, from which many early settlers came. The city's residents are a unique mix of working class/blue collar residents to middle class suburban residents. The eastern section of Wyoming was originally part of Paris Township.

School Liaison Program Annual Summary

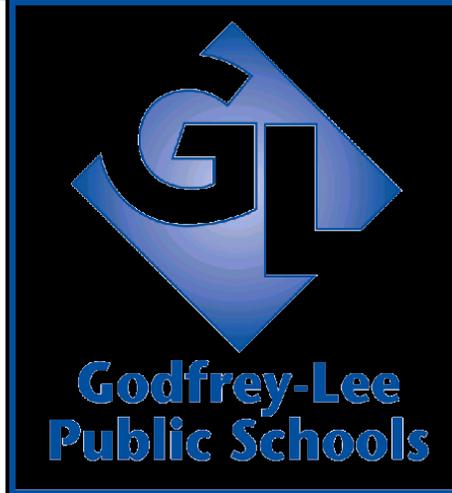

School Resource Activities

Sgt. Jim Maguffee is the supervisor of the School Resource Officer (SRO) program. The School Resource Officer program is a nationally accepted program involving the placement of a law enforcement officer within the educational environment.

The Wyoming Police Department has found that this long-standing partnership with the schools is very beneficial to the students and faculty. The mission of the unit is for the School Resource Officer to be a resource for students, parents, teachers and administrative staff regarding law issues. The SRO also serves as a link to other service agencies which provide preventive and counseling services within the school district. Working hand in hand with the principal in each school, the SRO assists with finding solutions to problems affecting school-aged children.

One of the primary goals of the program is to provide a safe learning environment for students and staff. To assist in this goal, this unit:

- Facilitates the School Emergency Response Planning Group where administrators and staff from forty K-12 school buildings within our city limits meet to discuss various issues relating to the safety and security of our schools.
- Conducts site security operations and reviews
- Works closely with the Patrol Division as they conduct monthly school walk-thrus
- Works closely with the Detective Division to follow up on or assist in investigations involving students.

Department Training

Annual Summary

Training Summary

The Wyoming Police Department Training Unit utilizes many different delivery methods to improve upon our knowledge, skills and abilities. These methods include, but are not limited to: Field training, In-service training sessions, West Michigan Criminal Justice Training Consortium (WMCJTC) classes, Roll Call sessions, and vendor-provided training.

Training Methods

In-service Training

Members of the department attended approximately 9,500 hours of training during 2011 (this does not include non-qualification range time). A majority of this training is done on Thursday which is the Patrol Division's overlap day, thereby decreasing the overtime and back-fill issues that can be related to providing this level of training.

West Michigan Criminal Justice Training Consortium (WMCJTC)

Of the nearly 9,500 hours of training, the WMCJTC accounted for approximately twelve hundred of those hours. Participation in WMCJTC provides an economic method of training our employees. Our average cost per contact hour of training from WMCJTC was $4.70 during the past year. Courses attended in 2011 include topics such as:

- | | |
|-------------------------------|-------------------------------|
| Legal Update | Emotional Survival |
| Understanding Female Shooters | Investigating Sexual Assaults |
| Sig Armorer Class | Krav Maga |
| Police Precision Driving | Leadership |
| Forensic Interviewing | Physical Control Tactics |
| Culture & Race | Domestic Violence Response |
| Cognitive Interviewing | |

Mandatory Training

The training unit delivers the mandatory weapons qualifications, OSHA and CALEA mandated trainings, special unit in-service training and other specialty courses. A training matrix was developed to help insure that all of the mandatory topics are covered.

Vendor-provided training

Training that cannot be obtained through the previously described methods is often procured through outside vendors with expertise in topics such as:

- | | |
|------------------------------------|--------------------------------|
| Crisis Negotiations | Trends in Technology |
| Human Trafficking | Neighborhood Watch |
| Practical Homicide Investigation | Reid Interview & Interrogation |
| Street Crimes | Digital Investigation School |
| Police Wellness | Basic SWAT |
| Gang Investigation | VALOR |
| Street Survival | K-9 Certification |
| Identify/Seize Electronic Evidence | |

Community Programs

Neighborhood Watch Program

Our Neighborhood Watch Program encourages people in our community to have ownership of the neighborhoods by becoming more aware of their neighbors and report suspicious activity to the police. This program also encourages collaboration among neighbors to actively address community issues and concerns. Representatives of the Wyoming Police Department joined Neighborhood Watch groups in celebrating the 26th Annual National Night Out.

Child Watch

We have trained and screened volunteers throughout the city to assist us in providing a safe haven for children in distress. In addition to the community volunteers, the schools partner with us to provide the children with the educational to let them know the house with the watchful eye is a safe haven for them in an emergency.

Metro High School Police Academy

The Metro High School Police Academy was formed in June of 1996 as a cooperative effort between the Wyoming, Kentwood and Grandville Police Departments. It has since expanded to include the departments of Walker, Rockford, East Grand Rapids, the Kent County Sheriff's Department. Since the expansion, the program services students from over 29 different schools. The academy offers the students with forty –eight hours of instruction that is based on the Michigan Commission on Law Enforcement Standards Basic Police Training Curriculum.

National Night Out

National Night Out is a nation wide crime prevention programs that encourages people to get out and meet their neighbors. The unit coordinates with other area police agencies and our Neighborhood Watch Groups to arrange public displays of police equipment, neighborhood block parties, parades and other gatherings for the event.
